

Here's some good news! The construction project in downtown Chester is finally finished and the Chester Sunday Market has returned. Shops, restaurants, and galleries are open, we suggest checking hours at individual shops and hopping, and outdoor dining is available at most of Chester's famous eateries, including Otto, River Tavern (in the tent behind Otto), Hot French Chix, and Grano. We've always called Chester charming, but now you'll find it even more so. Visit the Market this Sunday from 10 - 1 and enjoy all the updates to the village.

Love, Erica

Set Your Curiosity Free

Hopkins School students are curious — they love to think and learn. Here each day, at the nation's third oldest independent school, high-achieving students come to learn with an intellectual passion, challenging one another in a collective pursuit of excellence. A parent recently said about Hopkins: "It feels very much like a scholarly community." And it does. Being around other students who are similarly motivated — it's stimulating, it's inspiring. George Wang, Class of 2020, put it this way: "There is definitely a higher level of intellect here. In other schools, there is always a standout kid or two in every class, but at Hopkins the school is full of those kids."

If you're passionate about learning, this is the place for you. Come to Hopkins and set your curiosity free.
