

It's Laura here and I'm taking the wheel for Erica. She'd like me to relay a heartfelt message of thanks to all of you who reached out last week with well wishes and advice for testing. Happy to report that she tested negative for Covid and is feeling much better. HOWEVER, in her mad dash to the polls yesterday, she tripped and fell nearly face first into a curb, broke her fall with one hand and is currently laid up with a sprained wrist and a handful (literally) of stitches. Typing is off the table for now. Never a dull moment!

Enjoy!

Love, Laura

Musical Masterworks Opens its 30th Season

Musical Masterworks is opening its 30th season with a twist, by providing a new way for "MM" aficionados to safely enjoy its concerts – professionally produced video!

So, put on your party hat and take a sneak peek at their opening concert video that celebrates another important milestone--this year marks the 250th anniversary of the birth of Beethoven. To celebrate, Musical Masterworks is beginning its 2020-21 season with three Beethoven sonatas and their December concert will feature three Beethoven string quartets. Hear the master's works as you've never heard them before!

You'll feel like you have a front-row seat while enjoying soothing and rich culture from the comfort of your home. Don't we all need that?

Ticket Information

COST: Individual Video Ticket: $40 | Student: $5 | Subscriptions available.

Video Ticket Details

Tickets available for purchase until November 7th. On November 7th we will email the link and password to the video which can be viewed an unlimited number of times from November 7th – November 28th. A perfect treat for the Thanksgiving holidays!
