

Spring! All of a sudden, it seems like hope is in the air. We're hearing about lots of openings, new businesses, and restaurants returning to outdoor (and indoor dining). After digging deep to find things to write about for an entire year, it's an exciting time for our little team! We'll be bringing you plenty of things to do, eat, and see this season, as we're finally getting out a bit, too. This week we've got a couple of fantastic new restaurants and some ideas for post-pandemic travel.

Let's Go Out for Brunch!

Shipwright's Daughter, Mystic

We've been ogling the menu at The Shipwright's Daughter for months now. This new spot opened at The Whaler's Inn in Mystic last June and slipped under our radar during the pandemic. But we finally noticed and (with one vaccine under our belt) headed over on a bright and sunny Sunday for Brunch.

5 Family Travel Ideas to Celebrate a Graduation

While it may be a little early to take that long over-due vacation, we can dream about it, can't we? I recently gabbed with Marcia Simon, travel advisor and owner of Friendly Group Travel. Her Shoreline-based company organizes excursions for small groups and families (2 to 20 people). What's lovely about Marcia's services is that she'll create an itinerary and make all the plans, leaving you free to enjoy your vacation. Here are Marcia's ideas about celebrating graduation (or anything else) with a family trip.

Fast-Casual Vegetarian Indian Food at Pataka, New Haven

One need not be a vegetarian or a connoisseur of Indian cuisine to appreciate this vibrant eat in/take out joint in New Haven. We were already taken by the bold and brilliant branding of Pataka, Harry and Romy (of House of Naan) Singh's new fast-casual Indian place on Howe Street. It was a delight to discover the offerings inside were a perfect match for the outside!
