An Excruciatingly Opinionated Guide to the Connecticut Shoreline

FUN CALENDAR EAT DISCOVER TRAVEL TOWN GUIDES

Yup, we're still slightly confused about whether to dine out indoors or outdoors and suspect you might be, too! We're also not ready to give up a relatively free-wheeling summer and this temperate weather is on our side. So, this week we're revisiting our outdoor dining guide and adding a few new ones to the list. And if you're looking for a weekend jaunt during the best time of year in CT (now!), hit the road for the Litchfield Hills. A favorite overnight stay is included below!

Los Charros is Back...to Stay

There's no question Colt Taylor, owner and head chef of Los Charros and The Essex, knows a thing or two about the pivot. He's now closed his pandemic response takeout-focused Public Market and has revamped and enlarged his Cantina to encompass the entire space at 30 Main Street in Centerbrook...

Saybrook Home

In October of 1977, Saybrook Home first opened its doors. Then known as Saybrook Country Barn, the store has seen many changes in its growth to become a destination spot for all things furniture, fashion, and lifestyle. Saybrook Home's custom furniture work, experienced design team, and American-made products is the realization of their vision to deliver quality.

Now in its third generation of leadership, Saybrook Home is celebrating 44 years this month. Keith A. Bolles, Saybrook Home President, stated, "Since being founded by my grandmother, our principles have remained the same: Provide quality, fashionable products at a fair price, all while going above and beyond in our approach to customer service. We are fortunate to have been embraced so fully by the CT Shoreline community for the past 44 years and we look forward to being part of it for the next 44."
